How to read results

Your horse's DNA samples have been individually analysed against each of the above feeds (for compatibility) and presents 1 of 3 responses as below. Results relate solely to the individual horse tested and do not constitute a judgement on the feed brand, formulation or suitability for other horses.

- Red Feeds to Avoid: These feeds showed a strong energetic resistance and are best removed from the feeding regime.
- Yellow Review Cautionously: These may cause occasional or mild stress. Some horses may tolerate well, others may not.
- Green Appear Suitable: These feeds can act as a normal ration without causing any harm to your horse's diet.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES

This report is for informational purposes only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of any feed brand. The results are based on a single DNA sample and may vary from time to time. The results are not intended to be used as a basis for making any decisions regarding the feed brand or formulation. The results are not intended to be used as a basis for making any decisions regarding the feed brand or formulation. The results are not intended to be used as a basis for making any decisions regarding the feed brand or formulation.
